

The Long Road to Woman's Suffrage Research Paper

"...to get that word, male out of the Constitution, cost the women of the country 52 years of pauseless campaign; 56 state referendum campaigns; 480 legislative campaigns to get state suffrage amendments submitted; 47 state constitutional campaigns; 277 state party convention campaigns; 30 national party convention campaigns to get suffrage planks in the party platforms; 19 campaigns with 19 successive Congresses to get the federal amendment submitted and final ratification campaign."

Carrie Chapman Catt, on the ratification of the nineteenth amendment

Complete one of the following using the information below:

- ☐ Write a 750 word essay on the Road to Woman's Suffrage.
- ☐ Create a poster showing how Women's roles have changed over the years ending in the Vote and give an oral report of your findings
- ☐ Create a power point presentation and give an oral report of your findings

Your project should include the following:

3 internet resources

1-2 books

2-3 primary source document {In history, a primary source (also called original source) is a document, recording, artifact, or other source of information that was created at the time under study, usually by a source with direct personal knowledge of the events being described. It serves as an original source of information about the topic}

Works Cited Page

From the Colonial period to the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment, many American Women demonstrated creativity, intelligence, and courage. Yet despite the obvious achievements of many and the selfless efforts of some, women did not receive rights of full citizenship until after World War I. Using the categories below, explain women's roles in the following areas:

Colonial Life

Revolutionary period

Antebellum South

Seneca Falls Convention

Nineteenth Century

Abolition and Feminism

Due Date: All Assignments are due by Friday, November 6. You decide when you will be turning this in and let me know. However, you must turn it in no later than November 6! You will be held to the date you tell me. We will look at the calendar together so you can choose a date!